

Dear Fellow Club Members,

PLEASE COMMUNICATE! The Chronicle is designed to help connect and inform all of us and re-energize the members around the club's vital activities. Thank you,

We were very happy to welcome Will Snider, our Membership Committee Chair, to the September 17, 2009 Communications Committee meeting. Please follow his suit and share the honor of your presence with us. Whether you are a Committee Chair or an enthusiastic club member interested in what is going on, you are welcome to attend our Communications Committee meetings on the 3rd Thursday of every month!

Speaking of what is going on, it has been another busy month for the Communications Committee. We are making progress with the Rotary Club of Denver Marketing Brochure and currently have the first draft under review by advertising experts and members of the younger audience to find the most attractive way to display the good deeds of Denver Rotary.

Two companies expressed interest in placing their ads on the Rotary Club of Denver website and we are eagerly and gratefully pursuing those opportunities in hopes that their good Samaritan examples will be followed by many and soon.

We have already made contact with CBS 4 and are gearing up to meet with the Chief Editor of The Denver Post in October. Also in October we will have the first meeting with the videographer who graciously agreed to help us produce the first ever Rotary Club of Denver marketing video.

Adams Price, the wonderful leader of the web site sub-committee, is currently working with our web service provider to explore the opportunities of applying new technologies to our current website offerings, including advertisements.

And finally, the Rotary Club of Denver Store effort continues to move forward at high speeds and with much enthusiasm, thanks to Tim Sheahan and Carol Duncan.

Please stay tuned and do not forget: Communications Chronicle stands ready to assist with anything you may wish to COMMUNICATE to the rest of the club! Submit your info now!
